Gli Amorosi

Gli Amorosi is Alys Cordeaux and Jonathan Marshall.

These two young and exciting singers have been trained in the traditional classical and are now making a successful career in the cross-over field of 'popera' music.

Gli Amorosi first performed in Australia in 2006, as feature artists with well-known Australian tenor Romano Dragoni, in a successful fund-raising concert for Queensland Cancer Research.

Alys and Jonathan originate from small towns in Aotearoa-New Zealand and first met whilst studying music at the University of Canterbury. Their first performance together was in 2003 with their duet 'One Hand, One Heart' which anticipated a relationship and a career as Gli Amorosi

Gli Amorosi are perfect for all function types including weddings, concerts, festivals and private events.
