Slyhooks

The Slyhooks tribute show take you back to a time in the mid 70's when Skyhooks with their strange costumes and even stranger make-up ruled the airwaves with hits including "Million Dollar Riff" , "Living in the 70's", "Ego", "Horror Movie", "Women in Uniform", and the great classic "All My Friends Are Getting Married", to name only a few.

The Slyhooks tribute show recaptures that time, a time when parents would lockup their daughters at the mere mention of the name Skyhooks, a time when Skyhooks songs were banned from the radio and a time when we started to question authority.

Slyhooks have been endorsed by Skyhooks founder and primary songwriter Greg Macainsh, who has given his consent to the show.

The Slyhooks tribute show is perfect for corporate functions, community concerts, venues and private parties.
